Dear Mr. Parenti,

Thank you for the opportunity to work with the Mattioli Transdermalonto. This device was recently installed in our office. We have been using Microdermabrasion for a number of years in our office and we were extremely excited when we first heard of the new technology developed by Mattioli Engineering for transdermal drug delivery. Our initial reaction to your system has been very positive. Patients are happy with the results and we have experienced no technical problems. We look forward to using this device for the administration of Lidocaine and also working with some of the macromolecules, such as collagen. We will keep you updated on our findings.

Sincerely,

Dianne Quibell, MD
